

Zero In Shooting Center

Bozeman Regional Success Story

“Anya was a fantastic connection. She is a wealth of knowledge and helped us build a strategic plan and projections that met the lenders needs—and were also great tools for us to help develop our vision”
- Andy Ruhland

OPPORTUNITY

As native Montanans, Andy and his wife Anita, saw a gap in the indoor shooting range options in the state and felt there was an opportunity to create a state-of-the-art indoor shooting facility in Bozeman.

ASSISTANCE

Anya, the SBDC Regional Director worked with the couple to develop a strategic plan and financial projections to submit to their local lender and Big Sky Economic Development's 504 loan program to assist with the construction of the new building.

IMPACT

Zero In Shooting Center was able to obtain financing to help construct their building that includes many shooting ranges, a pro-shop and a variety of training courses. They have created 8 full-time jobs and 17 part-time jobs.

 @MontanaSBDC |  @mtsbdc | sbdc.mt.gov

Funded in-part through a Cooperative Agreement with the U.S. Small Business Administration.